

Essays:

My Aim in Life

Class 7th 1st term

It is said that an aimless life is a miserable life. It is as if a person starts a journey but he does not know which direction to take. So it is necessary to have a life with clear aim. The people, who want success in life, set their targets. They keep before them their circumstances, their talents and their ability to work.

My aim in life is neither wealth nor fame. I want to adopt a noble profession. I want to become a doctor. It is the only profession by which I can help the poor as well earn respect. The health standards in Pakistan are extremely poor at the moment so I want to make as much contribution as possible towards improving these standards. I want to dedicate my life to the suffering humanity, that why I have chosen this field. I know there is tough competition among the students while getting admission in a medical college. I would have to work hard.

This profession is my personal choice but my parents are also happy with this decision. I am quite satisfied with my choice of field. I am ready to put in my best efforts towards achieving this aim.

Quaid-e-Azam

Quaid-e-Azam is our national leader. He is founder of Pakistan.. He was born in Karachi on December 25, 1876. His father Poonja Jinnah was a merchant. His parents brought him up with love and care.

He passed his matriculation from Mission High School and went to England for higher studies. He became a barrister at the age 19. He started his practice of law in Bombay. He joined Indian National Congress and worked for Hindu Muslim unity. But the attitude of Hindus discouraged him. So he left the Congress and joined Muslim League. He worked for the rights of Muslims.

After a long and hard struggle, Pakistan came into being on August 14, 1947. He became Pakistan's first Governor General. He worked for its progress day and night. His motto was "work, work and work." His health deteriorated because of working hard. He died on September 11, 1948 in Karachi. He was buried there. May his soul rest in peace.

Moral Stories: Fox and Grapes

One afternoon a fox was walking through the forest and spotted a bunch of grapes hanging from over a lofty branch. "Just the thing to quench my thirst," he thought. Taking a few steps back, the fox jumped and just missed the hanging grapes. Again the fox took a few paces back and tried to reach them but still failed. Finally, giving up, the fox turned up his nose and said, "They're probably sour anyway," and proceeded to walk away.

Moral: It's easy to despise what you cannot have.
Nothing comes easy without a hard work.
So, Work hard and reach your goals

A Boy Who Cried, "Wolf, Wolf"

Once there lived a boy. He lived in a small village. He took out his sheep for grazing every day. He would go to a nearby jungle. One day, he thought of a mischief. He climbed up a tree and shouted, "Help! Help! A wolf is coming." The villagers rushed to his help. They found no wolf there. The boy laughed at them. He said that he had cried for the sake of fun. The villagers went back. On another day, he repeated the joke. The villagers again came to help him. They found no wolf. One day, a wolf actually came there. The boy shouted for help. No one came to his help. The wolf killed him and his sheep also.

Moral: Once a liar, always a liar

Letters: Letter to your friend inviting him/her to spend summer holidays with you.

Examination Hall,
City A.B.C
April 21, 2020.
Dear Friend,

I hope this letter will find you in the best of your health. You know that our summer holidays are approaching. I would like you to spend these holidays with me. In your last letter you promised to come to me during these holidays. Now it is time to fulfill your promise. We shall visit our common friends and do some shopping. Inform me as early as possible about the exact date of your arrival so that I may make further arrangements accordingly.

With love.

Yours affectionately,

x.y.z

Write a letter to mother asking about her health.

Examination Hall,

City A.B.C

April 21, 2020.

Dear Mother,

I am quite fine by Allah's grace but from Ali's letter I have come to know that you are suffering from high blood pressure. I am really worried about you. I hope that you must be taking precautionary measures to bring it normal. Please visit the doctor and take medicine regularly and inform me about your present condition as early as possible. Pay my salaam to all at home. Anxiously waiting for your reply.

Yours affectionately,

x.y.z

Applications: Application for sick leave

The Principal,

District Public School and college, Kasur.

Respected Sir,

With due respect, it is stated that I have been suffering from fever since the last night. Therefore, I am not able to come to school today. Kindly grant me leave for one day. In this behalf, I shall be very thankful to you.

Yours obediently,

X.Y.Z

Dated: April 22, 2020

Application for repairing of whiteboard

The Principal,

District Public School and college, Kasur.

Respected Sir,

With due respect, it is humbly stated that the whiteboard of our class room has been crumbled. It is very hard to write on it. A lot of spelling mistakes occur. Students are facing many problems. Kindly grant us new whiteboard so that we may continue our whiteboard exercise. I hope you will give kind consideration to our request.

Thanking you in advance.

Yours obediently,

X.Y.Z

Dated: April 22, 2020