A Morning Walk

Class 6th 1st term

A morning walk is a very useful exercise taken in the early hours of the morning. It is time when the mind is fresh and the body is active. It is rightly said, "Early to bed and early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise." "Stopping by Woods on a Snowy Evening" is a poem by Robert Frost in which a speaker stops to watch snow falling through the trees and consider the darkness and the journey ahead.

The speaker stops his horse outside a wood in the snow on the "darkest evening of the year."

Hearing his horse's bells shake, the speaker imagines that the animal wants to keep going.

The speaker hesitates, drawn by both the promises he must keep and the enchanting lure of the wintry woods

After offering fajar prayer, I go outside to a garden near my house. Green grass seems very refreshing to the eyes. There are dew drops on it which look like pearls. There is fragrance of beautiful flowers everywhere I take up deep breaths in the fresh morning air. It gives strength to my body and mind to fight against diseases. Chirping of birds seems like music. When the sun rises, it looks very beautiful. Some people take exercise there. In fact, one who walks in the morning, talks pleasantly and chalks out his plans smoothly. After spending some time there, I return home. It gives me strength for whole day's work. The morning walk keeps me fit and happy.

The Holy Prophet (P.B.U.H)

Our holy prophet, Hazrat Mohammad (S.A.W) was born at Mecca in Arabia. His father Abdullah had died before he was born. His uncle, Abu-Talib brought him up. He was always truthful and honest. Therefore, the people called him "Sadiq and Ameen."

The Arab had no religious worth. They worshipped idols. God sent His prophet (S.A.W) to teach them the code of good life. First they opposed him bitterly but they accepted Islam at the end. They stopped gambling and drinking. They gave up their social evils and became good Muslim. When Holy Prophet (S.A.W) passed away at the age of 63, his message had been conveyed all over the world.

Our Holy Prophet (S.A.W) was a model of tolerance. His life is a beacon of light for everyone in the world to lead a successful life. We should follow his teachings.

Moral Stories: Hare and Tortoise

Once upon a time, a hare and a tortoise were friends. The hare was proud of his fast speed. He used to laugh at the tortoise for his being slow. The tortoise challenged him to run a race. The hare accepted his challenge. Next day, the race began. The hare ran very fast and left the tortoise far behind. Then he lay under a tree to take some rest but soon fell asleep. The tortoise walked on slowly but steadily and passed the sleeping hare. The hare got up very late. The hare ran very fast to overtake. The tortoise had already reached the winning post. The hare was much ashamed and never made fun of his friend again.

Moral: Slow and steady wins the race
Pride hath a fall

A Strange Hen

Once there lived a man in a village. He had a strange hen. It laid a beautiful golden egg everyday. He was a greedy man. He wanted to become rich. He thought that inside the hen there must be a storehouse of golden eggs. He should get them in a day. He killed the hen in order to get all the eggs in one day. He was greatly disappointed to find only one. All his hopes of becoming rich overnight were dashed to the ground.

Moral: Haste makes waste

It is no use crying over spilt milk
